Information and Resources:

1. SNF statement:

<https://www.snf.ch/en/K3nRntj2wgma8Zjo/news/snf-supports-ukrainian-researchers>

SNSF also supports Scholars at Risk (SAR), a global organization committed to helping and funding scientists and researchers who are in danger in their own country

Several million for Scholars at Risk

The SNSF is providing several million francs to enable universities to host the first wave of researchers from Ukraine in collaboration with Scholars at Risk Switzerland. This will allow them to pursue their academic work at institutions in Switzerland. Additional sums may be allocated if the need arises.

2. <https://www.snf.ch/en/fniDfiLk26l0144l/page/measures-for-researchers-from-ukraine>

The SNSF is providing nine million francs for measures at Swiss universities in connection with the war in Ukraine.

Additional contributions for employing researchers from Ukraine

If you are hiring or intending to hire researchers from Ukraine as members of your team for an SNSF-funded project, you can request additional funding to cover their salaries for up to 12 months. Note that the usual SNSF salary brackets apply (also for doctoral students). With this measure, the SNSF aims to support researchers from Ukraine who are directly affected by the war.

Who is eligible for these additional measures?

Anyone who receives SNSF funding and whose work is affected by the war in Ukraine is eligible for support. These are:

- doctoral students
- researchers
- projects
